13 Special Workshops Scheduled For Summer Term

Field Study Set For Recreation

Northwestern has become the first institution in Louisiana to establish a field experience program for students majoring in recreation.

Dr. Robert Alost, head of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Northwestern, said students will be awarded academic credit for working in parks and recreation programs during summer terms.

Alost said Northwestern has entered into an agreement with the Shreveport Parks and Recreation Department for a cooperative program involving the use of facilities, services and equipment of the Shreveport organization.

Representing Northwestern in planning the program with Shreveport were Alost, President Arnold R. Kilpatrick and Dean of Education T. P. Southerland. Clyde Stallcup represented the Shreveport Department of Recreation.

Dr. Warren Evans, chairman of the recreation division of the Northwestern physical education department, said the recreation internship is comparable to NSC's student teaching curriculum for education majors in that it provides field experiences for the students.

Evans said Northwestern students will be given an opportunity to observe and participate in a wide variety of recreational programs including swimming, water safety, youth baseball and arts and crafts classes.

Students will take part in the practical experience program between their junior and senior years. Eight students have been assigned to the Shreveport program for this summer. They are Doug Brown, Rockport, Mass.; Robert Carroll, Elizabeth Gilbert, Natchitoches; Nancy Wise, Charleston, W. Va.; Jim Gibson, Shreveport; Charles Fletcher, DeRidder; Charles Parks, Minden, and Lynn Gautreaux, Baton Rouge.

Advisory Board is Appointed For New NSC Reading Center

Twelve outstanding educators and reading specialists from across Louisiana have been selected as an Advisory Board to the Northwestern satellite information center for the nation-wide Reading Resources Network.

Northwestern is one of only 20 information centers established by the Educational Research Information Center and the Clearinghouse on Retrieval of Information and Evaluation of Reading. The organization is known as ERIC-CRIER.

Dr. Mildred H. Bailey, professor of education and director of the Northwestern Reading Center, serves as coordinator of the information center. She announced the selection of the Advisory Board members.

Named to the Advisory Board were Dr. Ben Barron, director of educational research, Northwestern; Emmett Cope, superintendent of Bossier Parish Schools; Dr. Sam Dausat, associate professor of education, Louisiana Tech;

Travis E. Funderburk, assistant superintendent of instruction, Rapides Parish Schools; Miss Lilyan Hanchey, supervisor of reading, Caddo Parish Schools; Dr. Dwayne Haynes, director of the reading laboratory, Northeast Louisiana State College.

Dr. Thomas Hennigan, director of the educational media center, Northwestern; Donald MacKenzie, librarian, Northwestern; Mrs. Lavinia McNeely, supervisor of English and language arts, Louisiana State Department of Education; Dr. Helen Richards, head of the department of elementary education, Grambling College; Dr. Erick L. Thurston, associate professor of education, LSU, and Dr. Bailey.

Housed in the Northwestern Reading Center, the information center will be moved to the new teacher-education center upon completion of the building. The Northwestern center is the only

Two Are Slated For Shreveport

Dr. Charles F. Thomas, vice-president of academic affairs at Northwestern, has announced that 13 special workshops will be conducted by NSC during the summer term on the Natchitoches and Shreveport campuses.

Some of the workshops are restricted to graduate students, but others are being offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit.

Institutes will be conducted in art, business education, marketing, geography, home economics, recreation and special education.

Eleven of the workshops will be held at Natchitoches, and two others are scheduled for NSC-Shreveport, which is located at 1800 Warrington Place.

Registrar Walter P. Ledet said students may register for most of the classes during regular summer session registration, which is June 9-10, or at the first class meeting of each workshop.

Registration must be completed before June 30, however, for three classes which begin in early July. They are Art 414, Home Economics 408 and Special Education 504.

Classes which will be offered in Natchitoches are Art 404, Materials and Techniques; Art 414, Painting and Drawing for Teachers; Business Education 521, Teaching Business Education and Distributive Education to the Disadvantaged; Business Education 621, Improvement of Instruction in Secretarial Studies; Marketing 410, Marketing Management; Geography 521, Workshop in Louisiana's Natural Resources; Home Economics 408, Consumer Education; Home Economics 415 or 515, Curriculum Development in Home Economics; Home Economics 426, Gourmet Foods; Recreation 446, Outdoor Education and Recreation; and Special Education 502, Organization and Administration of Classes for Exceptional Children.

To be offered in Shreveport are Special Education or Psychology 446, Introduction to Study of Exceptional Children, and Special Education 504, Evaluation of Exceptional Children.

Academic Grants Received By 20

Twenty high school students from throughout Louisiana have been selected as recipients of State Board of Education Academic Scholarships at Northwestern.

In order to qualify for the grants, students were required to maintain a "B" average and rank in the top 25 percent of their graduating class. The 12 winners were selected by the Northwestern Scholarship Committee.

Students receiving the academic grants will be given a maximum of $1,000 a year or $4,000 during their four-year college careers at Northwestern.

Selected to receive the academic grants were Karen Anne Whatley, LaGrange High of Lake Charles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whatley, Jr.; David Simmons, Natchitoches High, son of Dr. and Mrs. Liso Simmons; Joy Elaine Sewell, Natchitoches High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Sewell; Linda Faye Sellers, Alexandria Senior High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Sellers; Pearl Sanders, Silliman Institute, Clinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Huey P. Sanders.

Rebecca Robinson, Coushatta High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Robinson, Jr.; Aloma Puckett, Benjamin Franklin High School, New Orleans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Puckett, Jr.; Linda Ann Perot, Natchitoches High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perot; Nell Elaine Loftin, Martin High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Loftin; Linda Joyce Jue, Captain Shreve High School, Shreveport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hing G. Jue; Sally Louise Graham, Bolton High School of Alexandria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton J. Graham; Patricia Anne David, Vandebilt Catholic High School of Houma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. David Jr.

Marilyn Darlene Cox, Natchitoches High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Cox; Martha Ann Compton, Welsh High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd N. Compton; Earline Marie Bryant, Colfax High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bryant; Julia Moore Bossier, Robert E. Lee High of Baton Rouge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bossier; Allen Henry Aymond, Jr., Menard High of Alexandria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Aymond, Sr.; Nancy Raye Johnson, Ruston High School, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Milton R. Johnson, Jr.; Cherry Lea Hopson, Bolton High of Alexandria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hopson, and Sharon Kay Stoker, Natchitoches High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stoker.

RECEIVING SPECIAL awards at banquets this spring were Dr. Leo Allbritten, left, who accepts the Phi Epsilon Kappa Award for Distinguished Service to Northwestern from Dr. Allen Bonnette of the Northwestern Physical Education Department, and Dr. Gloria Durr, right, who was presented the Award for Outstanding Achievement in home economics from Dr. Marie Dunn, head of the Department of Home Economics.

New Sociology Program Begun

Six social work agencies and institutions have agreed to participate in a new Northwestern program which grants academic credit to senior students for working in social work centers a minimum of eight hours a week.

Sponsored by the NSC Department of Sociology-Social Work, the program is comparable to Northwestern's student teaching curriculum for education majors in that it provides field experiences for the students.

The social work field experience program began this semester with eight NSC students working two afternoons a week in various units of the Central Louisiana State Hospital in Pineville.

Dr. Millard Bienvenu, head of the Department of Sociology-Social Work, said agencies which have agreed to participate in the program in addition to Central are the Louisiana Training Institute at Monroe; Natchitoches Office of the Bureau of Juvenile Probation and Parole; Natchitoches Day Care Center of the Child Welfare Agency of Louisiana; Caddo Parish Juvenile Court in Shreveport, and the Family Counseling and Childrens Service of Shreveport.

Bienvenu said field work experience for Northwestern students will begin in the new participating agencies and institutions during the summer semester. The college has 244 students majoring in Sociology-Social Work.

Students participating in the field study program will also be required to attend a weekly seminar on the Northwestern campus. The seminar sessions will be conducted by John Noles of the Sociology and Special Education Department faculty.

Bienvenu said the field work

Applications Are Being Taken For Annual Cheerleader Clinic

Students in junior and senior high schools throughout Louisiana are eligible to apply for the annual Northwestern Cheerleader School.

Northwestern dean of men Leonard Nichols, director of the clinic, said information bulletins have been mailed to schools across the state, and the college is now accepting applications for the summer program.

According to Nichols, the clinic will be divided into three one-week sessions. The first session will be June 14-19; the second session is June 21-26, and the final week of the program will be June 28-July 3.

More than 1,500 students from 200 schools are expected to enroll in the clinic, which was the first in the area and is the largest event of its kind in Louisiana.

Twelve instructors from the National Cheerleader Association of Dallas, Tex., will conduct classes during the school.

During the clinic, students will be taught tumbling stunts, how to conduct pep rallies, how to compose pep yells and chants, skits for rallies and games, school spirit programs and other facets of cheerleading.

Awards will be given at the end of each session to first, second and third place winners in large group and small group competition. Ribbons will be given throughout the clinic for outstanding cheers and routines.

Participants in the annual school will be housed in Northwestern dormitories and may obtain their meals in the Student Union. Each participant pays $20, which includes the registration fee and the room rental.

The Northwestern Cheerleader School began in the early 1950's, and through the years has attracted more than 12,000 students. Last year, some 1,400 students participated in the clinic.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained by writing Leonard Nichols, Dean of Men, Northwestern State College.

Medal Awarded To Gen. Johnson

U. S. Air Force Major General Dris B. Johnson, a graduate of Northwestern, has received the Distinguished Flying Service Medal for his contribution to national security.

The medal is the highest non-combatant military award for outstanding service to the United States while assigned in a position of great responsibility.

General Johnson, whose wife, Catherine, is the daughter of Mrs. J. G. Shaw, Rt. 1, Ringgold, La., was recognized for his distinguished performance as commander of the Air Force's unique Fourteenth Aerospace Force, headquartered at Ent AFB, Colo., from July 1966 to August 1969.

The 14th, formerly the 9th Aerospace Defense Division, is the only Air Force unit with a global space mission. A major component of the Aerospace Defense Command (ADC), the organization has worldwide responsibility for aerospace surveillance and tracking operations, including identification of man-made objects in space and operation of the underground North American Air Defense Command Space Defense Center inside Cheyenne Mountain in Colorado.

General Johnson was credited with tailoring an ADC system capable of meeting not only present but also future requirements of a space and missile oriented organization through his extensive understanding of space technology and exemplary leadership. He was specifically cited for increasing capabilities for the air defense of the North American continent.

The general, whose sister, Mrs. F. C. Francis, resides at 10302 Broadstairs, Houston, now commands the 313th Air Division headquartered at Kadena AB, Okinawa.

During his 29-year military career, General Johnson has received four awards of the Legion

The national reading clearinghouse is a joint project of the International Reading Association and Indiana University. The program is funded by the U. S. Office of Education.

Plans call for the clearinghouse to acquire, evaluate, abstract, store, retrieve and disseminate all of the information and research on reading since 1900. This information will be stored at the information center at Indiana University.

Indiana University will prepare copies of all of the research data and send material to the 20 satellite centers. Dr. Bailey said the new center will add some 2,500 volumes to the college's present library holdings.

Students, educators and reading specialists throughout the Southern part of the United States will utilize the material and facilities of the newly-established satellite center at Northwestern.

Cupid's Doings

The Parkview Baptist Church of Alexandria was the scene of the wedding of James R. Burke (BA '66) and Miss Gwen Marle (BS '65). The wedding was held November 2, 1968. They are living in Lafayette where Jim is employed by Washington National Group Insurance Co. Gwen is a physical education teacher at Comeaux High School.

Spring Football Practice Ends; Gossett Tells of Depth Problem

Northwestern head football Coach Glenn Gossett, whose club compiled a fine 7-2 record in 1969, believes the No. 1 problem for the 1970 Demons is a lack of depth.

Only 38 gridders were in pads for NSC's final practice session of the spring and Gossett said he had only 41 on his present roster.

"We'll have to get help from our freshmen," Gossett commented and added, "if we get a couple of people hurt, we'll be in real trouble."

Despite returning all but one offensive lineman, the Demons have virtually no one available for reserve duty. Only center Dennis Wilkinson and guard Jerry Simpson, a red-shirt from Arcadia, could be called upon should the need arise.

Tight end Steve Gaspard, the all-time pass receiving leader at NSC, was the only offensive lineman lost via graduation. Paul Zoller, a sophomore from Jena who missed most of last season with a knee injury, is Gaspard's probable successor.

Center Gary McCrary, guards Leslie Robertson and Bobby Koncak, and tackles Leonard Richardson and Don Miser will return to claim starting berths in the offensive line. All but Richardson were named to one of the all-Gulf States Conference teams in '69.

McCrary, however, had a knee operation in the off-season and missed spring training. Gossett pointed out that Wilkinson, an all-GSC kicking specialist, looked good throughout spring training as McCrary's replacement.

In the backfield, quarterback Mike Pool, fullback Richard Ware and halfback Tommy Wallis are regulars from last season's team. Vic Nyvall, who owns five NSC records, is the lone departure in the backfield.

Sophomore-to-be Donald Johnson, who had an outstanding spring, is Nyvall's probable successor while lettermen Gil Gilson and Mark Nyvall (Vic's brother) and red-shirt Roger Huckaby are the only other ball carriers available.

Alwyn Phillips of Baton Rouge—Lee and Wayne Haney of Shreveport-Fair Park, a pair of flashy receivers, make the Demons two-deep at split end. Phillips, an all-GSC choice two years ago, will be entering his final season while Haney has two seasons remaining.

Freshman Lynn Herbert improved during the spring and could be depended on for more relief of Pool than last season. Another freshman, Wilton Cox, is the only other quarterback in camp.

Of NSC's 28 returning lettermen, there are no monogram winners at the linebacker posts. Larry Gaudet of New Orleans—Holy Cross was a regular linebacker in '69 but has been moved to defensive end. Three-time all-GSC star Lester Latino departed via graduation.

Sophomores Bentley Usey of New Orleans—Holy Cross and Gordon Boogaerts of Shreveport-Captain Shreve, who have never seen action in a Demon uniform, are the probable linebackers for 1970. Tommy Plaisance, who missed spring practice with a knee injury, will be the only other Demon available for duty at that position.

Two-time all-GSC selection Walter Edler returns at one tackle and either Craig Tripp of Springhill or Sterling Baldwin of New Orleans-McDonough will fight for the other tackle slot. Both Tripp and Baldwin are lettermen. All-GSC Mike Burrow has departed via graduation.

Randy Tate and Mace Morris, an all-star pick, have finished their eligibility and letterman Greg Clark should team with Gaudet as the defensive ends. Clinton Ebey and Ronnie Frazier, both of Shreveport-Woodlawn, will also be on hand.

Nose guard Alton Geisendorff of Houma returns to his position, but he will not have a replacement.

Two starters, cornerback Kenny Callens and safety John Boogaerts, have finished out their eligibility but safety Kenny Hrapmann of New Orleans-Holy Cross

Spring Sports Season Ending

The four spring sports teams—baseball, track, tennis, and golf—have all passed the three-quarters mark on their respective schedules. And all activity is aimed toward the big Gulf States Conference conclave in Lafayette on May 7, 8, and 9.

The Demon baseball team, which plays a regular conference schedule during the course of the season, has struggled to stay close to the .500 mark. Coach Herbie Smith expressed the pre-season hope that "we can at least win as many as we lose."

And through 24 games, the Demon baseballers have come pretty close to that estimation. The diamond crew has won 9 and lost 15 at that juncture of the schedule. But the remaining contests will present a formidable challenge to the hope of achieving the .500 level.

Remaining double-headers are slated against Louisiana Tech, Southern State (Ark.), McNeese State, Nicholls State, and Southwestern Louisiana. All are GSC match-ups except the return games with Southern State.

The Demon track team, still in the process of building a competitive squad, has not won in seven appearances this season. There have been, however, several individual wins from pole and cornerback Ronnie Bagley of Kilgore, Tex. are returning to their posts. Freshman Travis Smith, a red-shirt from Bossier City, is the top candidate for the other safety spot while letterman Paul Tacker is Callens' probable successor.

Letterman Tom Merritt, punter Larry Smith, transfer Bob Watigny, and red-shirt John Kelly will all be battling for playing time in the defensive secondary.

"Every team in the conference should be strong next season," Gossett said. "It should be a real tight race."

Gymnasts Claim National Titles

The Northwestern gymnastics team, under the guidance of Coach Armando Vega, has for the fifth consecutive year won the national team title of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. But the Demon gymnasts were not content to be merely repeat champions.

Vega's charges went from Stout State University in Menomonie, Wis., where they captured the NAIA crown to Mankato State College in Mankato, Minn., where they battled extremely stiff competition to win the national championship in the College Division of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The NCAA title was indeed a sweet prize for this team since, for two straight years, they were forced to be "bridesmaids" at this event. But the throneroom of college gymnastics is thoroughly saturated with the name of Northwestern State College.

John Ellas from Birmingham, Ala., wound up his senior season by taking the all-around championship at the NAIA meet in winning all but three individual events. Paul Tickenoff finished second to Ellas at this meet, but the NSC junior racked up several individual titles himself.

At the NCAA College Division meet the two Demon gymnasts simply switched positions. Tickenoff, a native of Los Angeles, won the all-around championship with Ellas finishing second. Both men were, naturally, selected to the All-American teams in both those meets.

The Demons then traveled to the NCAA University Division meet in Philadelphia, Penn., held at Temple University. Both Ellas and Tickenoff scored well in the "big boys" meet, and Paul wound up in sixth place in the all-around competition and John finished ninth.

The two individuals have hopes of competing in the World Cup Matches in Long Beach, Calif. in May and in the World Games tryouts in July. The only factor remaining to be answered is can these national champions find the money to attend?

vaulter Richard Lewis, distance runner Paul Trueman, long jumper Rodney Mize, and weightmen Larry Wright, Knute Andersson, and Raymond Triche.

The Demon thinclads have made great improvement during the course of the season, and they should better last year's sixth place finish when the GSC meet rolls around on May 9.

May 7 and 8 will see the NSC tennis and golf teams competing in the GSC tournaments for those two events, and the center of action will be in Lafayette. The track meet will also be held at USL in Lafayette.
